There were 1937. Mrs. R. L. Oswald said her husband and she were Corps about a month ago when came to Fort Worth for a short visit.

"We were here these days, I think, and will be going down to New Orleans," the young Mrs. Oswald said.

"He said he wanted to travel a lot and talked about going to Cuba. We said that was a stupid thing to do."

"This is a stupid thing he's doing now, too," she added. "This is more stupid than that other."

The young Mrs. Oswald said she didn't know her husband-in-law very well — "we don't have to touch very good" — but "I now didn't think he'd do a thing like that."

Not Available. According to the report from the American embassy in Moscow, Oswald was urged by embassy officials not to sign papers representing his American citizenship until he was sure the Russian would accept him.

One Oswald — who is living at the Metropole Hotel in Moscow — was not available last Saturday for comment on his action.

He had told the embassy, though, that he had applied for Soviet citizenship.

He is the third American during the last three months to apply for Soviet citizenship, while visiting Russia.

Nicholas Petrilli of Valley Park, Pa., passed on Sunday.

Spees Showed Up

DENVER (AP)—As Ambassador Spees told it, he was so interested in taking complete in the Arizona desert last week he didn't discover until later that his eyeglasses were missing.

Kira, a laboratory technician at National Jewish Hospital, made a fruitless search, then came home and bought a new pair of glasses. He also had his eyeglasses developed. One showed a decent bush and on the bush, in perfect focus, lay the spees.

Mrs. James E. Taylor, at whose Fort Worth home Lee Oswald, 26, of Fort Worth, was staying, said the youth seemed to prefer staying in his room instead of making friends and visiting around with boys and girls.

His father died before he was born.

The former Marine was described as a lonely boy who seemed inclined to dance when anyone paid any attention to him.

Oswald left the Marines about a month ago, visited Fort Worth, and then said he was going to New Orleans to work for a shiping firm.

"He said he wanted to travel a lot and talked about going to Cuba," said his sister-in-law, Mrs. R. L. Oswald. "We said that was a stupid thing to do. This is a stupid thing he's doing now."

Passport Turned in At Moscow

BY JACK DOUGLAS.
Lee Harvey Oswald, 30-year-old assassin from Fort Worth now in Moscow, turned in his American passport and asked for Soviet citizenship Saturday morning.

Oswald, whose mother and father live here, strode into the American embassy, according to Star-Telegram wire service reports, slipped down his passport on the consul's desk and said: "I have made up my mind. I'm through."

Oswald's decision, announced here in Texas, came after a long vacation in his family home in New Orleans.
